

Marta's Story

'She lived in Cuba, danced in New York, taught in Madrid, and triumphed after her dying in a nursing home in Alcoy, where she dreamed of doing a ballet with the elderly...'

On her Spanish identification card, her name appeared as Marta González Saldaña; In New York and Madrid, she was called Marta Cinta.

People might not know any of these names, but we mentioned the elderly woman who danced 'Swan Lake' from her wheelchair, many will remember.

Explore Marta's story

